Description and how to apply
Tanfield has vacancies for up to two specialist probationary tenants to join us. As a leading property chambers, we are looking to develop the successful candidates into successful barristers within our busy and rewarding sector. We pride ourselves on our friendly and informal approach for professional and lay clients alike coupled with practical advice and a rigorous approach to the law. Candidates will be expected to have outstanding academic credentials, strong inter-personal skills, and to be ambitious, motivated and committed to excellence. Candidates should have some experience of, and an interest in property law. Probationary tenants will be assessed and considered for membership at the end of six months. They will be allocated a member of chambers as a mentor (akin to a supervisor). The successful candidates can expect a busy court and tribunal based practice involving possession claims, service charge disputes and small claim trials as well as advisory work. There will be guaranteed earnings of £40,000 for each third six barrister. Procedure for application: Applications should be made by way of CV, together with two references or the names of two referees, and a short covering letter to pupillage@tanfieldchambers.co.uk. Applications will be assessed on receipt of application.
